CHRISTMAS DANCE

Joyous Christmas songs and good cheer were on the top of the list at our Green White annual Christmas dance on December 10, 1980. Everyone had a wonderful time; who wouldn't with that delicious meal and all the drinks to cheer on the special holiday! The band, of course, were the POLIDORS and kept everyone on their toes and singing carols together. Thank you all for helping make this special event possible, without your hard work and enthusiasm it could not be done.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

One great event is followed by another. Our annual New Year's Eve dance! Many good friends came and celebrated the New Year together with the great fabulous music of the POLIDORS. For those of you who missed it, too bad, you missed a very special evening among our Green White members.

CHUCKLE OF THE MONTH

Proper Background

Pity the poor politicians. Not only do they struggle long and hard to get elected, but once in office they're besieged by supporters for favors. Like this one.

A heavy contributor to a winning candidate's campaign barged into the newly elected official's office. He had his empty-headed son with him and announced that he would like the boy to be given a job by the politician.

"What can he do?" asked the official. "Nothing whatever," was the father's frank reply.

"Oh," said the politician with obvious relief, "that makes it easier. We won't have to break him in."
